

Benefits of Membership

The rewards of membership bear a direct relationship to each individual's commitment. Programs are designed to create a stimulating environment for the professional and personal growth of each member as well as to focus group attention on current educational issues and to allow formulation of alternatives and solutions. Chapters carry out their own programs and projects through this framework. A collective list of benefits of membership in Delta Kappa Gamma includes the following:

- Honor of designation as "Key Woman Educator"
- Fellowship with network of 130,000 key women educators in 14 countries from all levels, disciplines, and environments
- Scheduled local, state, and international activities
- Support and mentoring within membership
- Opportunities to make presentation at meetings, workshops and conferences
- Leadership training and materials
- Grants and stipends for research and special projects
- Support for graduate study through state and international scholarships
- Recognition and awards for exemplary achievements
- Selections for chapter, state, and international responsibilities
- Updates, means, and links for legislative action
- Travel and study opportunities
- Insurance programs (U.S. only)
- Emergency Fund gifts
- Professional Society publications
